
Various Ways to get Banned from O.D

Posted by Paul - 2007/09/18 03:59

Various Ways to get Banned from O.D

Breaking any of the Terms & Conditions of usage or membership can see you getting banned.

Revealing information about what Opportunity Dock, it's site and programs or ideas it has or is currently offering to it's members. This is considered confidential, even though the site in it's construction period is "Transparent" and this will be considered a conflict of interest or detrimental to it's success.

In other words don't tell anyone about priviledged information you may from time to time receive through this site or by email.

Anyone involved in what is considered unethical or illegal practices on other sites.

We are here to help your business grow and we are committed to helping you to make money. Look after that interest, by not getting banned.

=====